Gleichen District Agricultural Meeting

Last Thursday evening a short meeting of the directors of the Gleichen District Agricultural Association was held in the Town Hall, and a few important business items passed, with Pres. Jas. Young in the chair.

It was agreed that the policemen in attendance should each be paid $5 in recognition of their excellent service during the days of the exhibition.

After considerable discussion it was carried that two sets of harness, a bridle and a blanket that had been generously donated for prizes, but had not been awarded, should be offered for sale by auction on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 21st, at T. H. Beach's store.

A large number of accounts being presented it was decided to pay them so soon as arrangements could be effected with the bank for a loan, as it was shown that it would be sometime before the appropriation from the Legislature will be obtained, and the funds on hand would be required for other purposes.

Another motion, however, provided for the payment of the prize list.

The question of an exhibit at the Lethbridge Dry Farming Congress occupied considerable time and argument. It was shown that the Farmers Union had asked the Agricultural Association, the Board of Trade and the Town Council to take up the matter and contribute toward the expense. After some discussion it was pointed out that Mayor Bray was present and could answer for town, Vice-Pres. Beach for the Board of Trade, Pres. Young for the Agricultural Association and Pres. Ostrander for the Farmers Union. At the start of the argument all were ready to promise assistance, but when it came to the financial end of the subject it was shown that to make a success of the exhibit a sum not less than $500 was required and possibly $2000. All present agreed that it was better not to exhibit at all unless it could be done properly. Finally, in order to bring the discussion to a point it was agreed that the representatives of the four bodies should vote on it and a motion was made to give up the idea of making an exhibit. All voted in favor of the motion save President Ostrander, who declined to vote, saying he did not feel in position to vote until he consulted with other members of the Union. More discussion followed and Mr. Ostrander said subject would be brought up at the Union meeting Saturday afternoon and he was requested to learn the wishes of the farmers and it was intimated that if the Union could devise a means to cover the financial troubles in a reasonable way the other organizations would cheerfully assist.

Before adjournment another motion passed that the secretary write Corporal Irvine thanking him for the service rendered the association during the exhibition.

[Later.—The farmers Union meeting failed to meet Saturday and until they do nothing further will likely be done towards the exhibit, although it is said several farmers from here will make individual exhibits.]

A meeting of Bow Valley Chapter Royal Arch Masons was held in Masonic Hall last evening.

D. T. TAGGART SELLS FIRST GRAIN

To D. T. Taggart, of Queenstown, belongs the credit of placing the first grain of this year's growth in the Gleichen elevators, and he states it was the first grain threshed in the Queenstown district this season.

R. S. Higgins, of the Sunnyside Elevator Co., was the lucky purchaser. He graded the wheat No. 3, but Mr. Taggart was not satisfied and Mr. Higgins at once had samples taken and sent to Calgary and Winnipeg for classification.

Mr. Taggart was most anxious to return home to attend to his farm duties and had not time to come up to the Call office to make a statement of his crop for this year, but was good enough to leave the information of the first shipment at McCammon & Ramsay's store.

MUNICIPAL UNION MEETING

Single tax, bonusing of industries, basis of valuation for assessment purposes, division of towns into city, town and village sections, and the attitude of the Government towards the proposed increase of capital stock of the Canadian Pacific Railroad Company, were the principal matters considered by the Union of Alberta Municipalities, which opened its eighth annual convention at Innisfail on Wednesday morning of last week.

A resolution declaring opposition to all forms of bonuses to industrial and other organizations, but asking for the same rights in this connection for the towns as are enjoyed by the cities was adopted.

A resolution was adopted declaring opposition to any increase in stock issue by the C.P.R., unless accompanied by ample control of freight and passenger rates of the railway. Opinion was expressed that the company should use the proceeds of its land sales to provide funds for extensions.

Mayor Mitchell, of Calgary, president of the union, presided. A resolution was introduced asking for an amendment to Section 287 of the Alberta Town Act, where by the actual cash value of the land, which is now the only basis of assessment, should be broadly estimated, having in view the fair proportionate valuation of all property.

Mayor G. A. Gaetz, of Leduc, cited an instance where a snap sale by a non-resident was accepted by a judge as the basis of a valuation in the case of an assessment of appeal. A change in the act to allow the assessor some latitude was asked. The resolution was adopted.

The principal discussion centered about a resolution asking for power to be given to towns and villages of raising the revenue by business taxes and a license, in addition to the land tax. Permission was wanted to levy taxes on a basis of floor space occupied and classified according to the nature of the business conducted. The discussion developed into an argument on the principles of single tax but the resolution was finally adopted.

A resolution was passed favoring the appointment of parliamentary representatives to watch the interests of municipalities at Edmonton during the sessions of legislature.

With the roll of delegates in attendance increased to over sixty representing nearly thirty cities, towns and villages in the province, the afternoon's session presented a very busy appearance. Every delegate was there to get through as much work as possible, and as a result a long string of resolutions were discussed and in most instances adopted. The application of the C.P.R. for permission to issue additional stock, the question of bonusing industries located in western towns, the working of the single tax system in the province, changes in the towns act a provincial tuberculosis sanatorium, and the appointment of an agent to attend the sessions of the legislature in the interest of the municipalities, were some of the matters under discussion.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

Rev. Mr. Gandier will conduct the services in St. Andrew's church next Sunday evening.

Mr. Cutter of Seattle and Oregon is inspecting the Ready-Made Farm Colony at Cluny, with a view to the purchase of two farms.

A 70-foot log being hauled out south to the works on the S. A. L. Company's canal Tuesday attracted a good deal of attention.

Chas. Evans and J. McCarty received a brand new separator and steam engine of the Rumely make and started out Tuesday to put it into operation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hogan, of Hogans Feed Co., Seattle, Wash., have been paying a visit to their relatives Mr. and Mrs. Coates at the C.P.R. quarters, Cluny.

The Duke has been here and now comes McCammon & Ramsay's special Millinery Opening on Monday and Tuesday 23rd and 24th inst. To which all the ladies are especially invited.

In the report of the banquet to H.R.H. last issue, the Call quite unintentionally left out Alderman James as one of the guests. The popular alderman was not in the least offended, but remarked he would have appreciated it more had the banquet lasted a couple of hours longer. Of course it was the elegant speeches "Cap" was anxious about.

The 10th Camp Mission on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 28th, from 3 to 5 o'clock, in aid of the balance needed for the Church Removal fund. See hand bills in Post Office and Stores. 28

The Agricultural Association will offer for auction Saturday afternoon, a set of racing harness, a set of driving harness, a horse blanket, and a single mounted bridle at T. H. Beach's store. These goods were offered for prizes, but as they were not competed for will be offered for sale to swell the funds of the Association.

Dr. C. Townshend of Pincher Creek arrived in town Tuesday and has decided to locate permanently in Gleichen. He states that he has been looking for a location several months and after visiting the towns from Pincher Creek to north of Edmonton he has come to the conclusion that Gleichen is the best location for himself and family.

A couple of weeks ago R. A. Brown put a small ad. in the Call to sell a wagon and a set of harness. He now wants the world to know that he has sold them, for the applications are coming too thick and fast for his valuable time. Mr. Brown says the Call as an advertising medium exceeds his expectations and he will recommend it at all times.

Stephen Margain arrived last week from Forest Grove, Oregon, and went to Queenstown to inspect his farm, which adjoins J. M. Millers. Mr. Margain said that from the reports he had received he had every reason to believe he had a good crop this year, and would remain for some weeks. He had been a constant reader of the Call, thanks to his friends in Forest Grove, who were subscribers, particularly mentioning A. B. Thomas, who was one of the first on our list, when the Call started nearly six years ago.

D. Gillespie was in town Monday morning and when seen by the Call said his grain crop this year consisted of 680 acres, divided into 425 acres of wheat, 175 acres of oats and 80 acres of flax. He would not admit much knowledge of quality and quantity but said his neighbors told him his wheat should at least run 23 bushels and grade No. 2, and his oats 60 bushels and grade No. 1. His flax was a little late and he did not care to say much about it, some thought it would yield 20 bushels, but he had his doubts. However, Mr. Gillespie did appear to be pretty well satisfied, and said his grain, all but the flax, was cut long ago, he was most anxious to have the separator at work.

True there was the clue of which Betty Dyson had told him, but after all the clue might be useless—considering Soames' present mental condition, certainly would be useless. And as for his part in the affair, he had no right to divulge Soames' secret to him professionally. What ever else happened, it was quite unlikely that Hearnsey would suffer the extreme penalty of the law, for no jury in the world would be likely to bring in a more serious verdict than manslaughter, and it was really more than likely that in any case Sir Miles would be acquitted. And then he would only have had to endure a little discomfort and distress of mind before freedom was restored to him. If the discomfort and distress accelerated the course of the insidious disease from which he suffered, well, it was unfortunate, but also unavoidable. The end would be hastened by a few weeks or months, and the end—was inevitable.

Inevitable? He had made a detour and was walking across St. James' Park, when that word struck into his thoughts, and gave him pause. The sunlit water, the chattering water fowl, the trees stirred by the summer air, faded from his sight; he was back again in the ward at St. Hugh's, beside the bedside of Drummond's patient. And into his mind there flashed again the sudden inspiration which had flashed into him when he examined the case that had baffled his colleagues. All his searches, all his gropings, all his doubts and came to a head during that moment's inspiration, and he knew that a new item had been added to the sum of human knowledge.

Miles Hearnsey's end—inevitable? Inevitable—when—

CHAPTER XXIII

Dynecourt, with his text book spread before him, and a note book propped against the ink stand, sat pondering deeply over the new and amazing discovery he had made. In the remote corner of his mind there had always been a faint glimmering of the possibility that now seemed on the verge of becoming a certainty. His groanings had led him as it were to the threshold of the door, but the portals had hitherto remained fast closed. Had the time come at last when they would fling back and give him that for which his soul yearned, his opportunity, the opportunity, of the pioneer? His brows were drawn together in profound thought; with the ruthlessness of a strong and determined man he searched down all those untitled stirrings of conscience, he had thrust aside every thought of the Manchester murder, of Soames the lawyer, whose ravings had made the past night hideous, even

Eczema Always Burning and Itching

Mr. N. Outguy.

Used Box of Cuticura Ointment and It Completely Disappeared.

"I have suffered from eczema for two years. The trouble began on one arm where there appeared a red spot of about a five-cent size, and it always widened, all the time itching and burning. The first day I didn't cure it, but seeing that it gained in size, I tried Cuticura Ointment and Ointment, but both without success. It was always burning and itching. Having seen in the newspaper the advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies, I tried a little, and seeing that it improved, I bought a box of the Cuticura Ointment. After having used one box, my eczema completely disappeared. The Ointment should be kept in every home." (Signed) N. Outguy, Marquette, Que., Jan. 17, 1911.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poisoning! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!

Then again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literary casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 101 Delorimier Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Co., and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c. stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

The Lighthouse on Bird Rocks

The life of the lighthouse keeper is a dreary and monotonous one. There are among the many stations along the Canadian Atlantic seaboard a number of isolated and barren places on which it is necessary to maintain lighthouses for the guidance of the mariner. One of them is Bird Rocks, situated about ten miles from Magdalen Island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The rock is 140 feet above sea level, of solid red slate and does not possess enough soil to grow a peck of potatoes. It is the haunt of innumerable sea birds and the home of the light-keeper. To reach the top of the rock one has to climb a perpendicular ladder 130 feet in length.

During the month of March last the Halifax steamer Seal, then hunting for seals, observed the flag at the light station half-mast. Captain Farquhar forced the vessel through the hoary ice to the barricade of ice which was between forty and fifty feet high, and on climbing the ladder found the inhabitants—one woman, one young man and a HIVE of bees in deep distress. The light-keeper's body was in an outhouse. He was drowned two days previously while duck shooting. The Seal took the body to Magdalen Islands for burial, and the widow took up the duties of tending the light.

Mrs. Bourque is not likely to see another visitor's face until the government steamer arrives there during the summer with the regular supplies. Hers is a weary vigil, a lonesome life.

Necessary to Go

Yes, I really must go tomorrow. You can just as well stay till Monday.

But the folks are expecting me. Telegraph them that you're going to stay.

I'm sorry, but if I stay I'm liable to lose $1,000 on that deal I told you of.

Oh, pshaw, the deal can wait a few days.

My manager has written me that my business needs my attention.

Yes, but he is only afraid to assume a little responsibility. The business will be all right.

There is an important meeting of the directors that I really must attend.

Oh, they'll get along all right without you.

You know how much I'd like stay, but the fact is my railroad ticket runs out tomorrow.

Well, in that case, I suppose you will have to go. Be sure and come up to see us again in a month or two.

The Other View

William M. Chase at the recent sale of his pictures in New York, said to a reporter:

Yes, these are all good things—things collected with great care. You can't comment on them as the teacher once commented on the pupil's drawing. I draw what I see, the pupil will come the teacher answered, when you see what you have drawn.

Hold ye! head high when you meet Thouben! let him pass on, complain! dat you is too proud to recognize him.

Corporal Mechanics

The motor-bus snorted slowly along the street, gave three loud groans, and stopped with a jerk right opposite the cab-rank.

The driver got off, hurriedly dived beneath the bonnet, and then, throwing himself on the ground, crawled underneath the bus.

After a while he came out again, and, with a confident smile, attempted to restart the engine. But no, the engine wouldn't go.

Then he glared at the silent machine and scratched his head, and his mouth worked as if he communed with himself.

A caddy silently took his whip out of the socket, and, crossing to the infuriated man, held it out to him.

"Ere yare, mate!" he said, with a ghost of a smile. "It 'im!"

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces, each article should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage it will do is too deep to be repaired. It is a fact that many of the cheap ointments for Catarrh, which are sold in every drug store, contain mercury, and are taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made by Dr. J. C. Cheney & Co., Toronto, Ontario. Sold by Druggists. Price 75c. per bottle. Take Mail's Family Pills for constipation.

Customer—No, I'm a chauffeur!

It is in Demand.—So great is the demand for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil that a large factory is kept continually busy making and bottling it. To be in demand shows popular appreciation of this preparation, which stands at the head of proprietary compounds as the leading Oil in the market, and it is generally admitted that it is deserving of the lead.

More About The Loading Platform

The present generation of Western farmers will never know the difficulties and vexations experienced by their predecessors in the earlier years when no one could get a carload of grain shipped in bulk except by loading it through an elevator. The system forced the majority of farmers to sell their grain to the elevator owners at arbitrary prices, and oftentimes to submit to heavy dockage and other annoyances, causing continual dissatisfaction. Now however the distribution of cars as fixed by the Grain Act, and the use of the loading platform, provide facilities which enable the farmer to secure satisfactory treatment in the disposal of his grain, and the highest market prices at time of sale. Every farmer therefore, should more and more endeavor to use the loading platform in shipping his grain to the terminal elevators. It is the safeguard of the farmers' freedom in disposing of his grain to the best advantage for himself. If farmers refrain from using the loading platform freely, it might result in its being done away with, because railway companies and elevator owners are strongly opposed to it. It is easy to understand why elevator people desire the loading platform abolished. The railway people on their part say it delays the loading of cars and helps to cause car shortages. This we know to be nonsense, because frequently after cars are loaded whether with grain, coal, lumber or other merchandise, they are sidetracked for days and even weeks instead of being promptly moved forward to destination. It is engine shortage and shortage of competent train men that mostly cause grain to be loaded on railways and not lack of cars. Let every farmer therefore, do all he can to use the loading platform and become an independent shipper. In subsequent advertisements we will state in detail the savings and other advantages of direct loading into cars compared with loading through elevators.

We handle the farmers grain strictly on commission, make liberal advances on grain in storage, and the grading at time cars are inspected, secure the highest prices at time of sale and make prompt returns when sold. Write us for shipping instructions and market information.

The Greater Tragedy

The man whose daughter had just been united to the husband of her choice looked a little sad.

I tell you, squire, he said to one of the wedding guests, a man of his own age, and himself the father of a number of unmarried girls. I tell you it is a solemn thing for us when our daughters marry and go away.

The squire assented not altogether heartily.

I suppose it is, he conceded, but I tell you, it is more solemn when they don't.

A Soft Answer

John P. Irish spoke in California against woman suffrage. One night after a meeting in Sacramento a militant suffragette came up to him and said in stern, cruel tones:

John P. Irish, you're a lowdown liar! The truth isn't in you.

Madam, Irish rejoined, is it so bad as that? Wouldn't you believe anything I say?

Not a thing. I wouldn't believe a word you utter. You can't tell the truth!

In that case, replied Irish, permit me to say, madam, that you are a perfect lady.

LETTER-HEAD SWINDLERS*Warnings to Tradesmen and Others

The up-to-date swindler has to be something of a student of human nature. And one of the human weaknesses that he has discovered and made use of is the unreasoning confidence placed by the average business man in an imposing letter-head, especially if the letter-head is that of a firm of known respectability. One is apt to forget that a letter-head is an extremely easy thing to forge, with the result that one rarely suspects that the letter was not written by the firm whose name is printed on the note paper.

Of course, the letter-head swindler is not so clumsy as to walk into a printer's and order the name of a firm to be printed on note-paper. The chances of detection would be too great. He goes to work much more subtly.

He obtains, by any of a dozen different ways the letter-head of a business concern. This he takes to a printer in the neighborhood, and asks him to set up a proof of the letter-head. If satisfactory the printer is to receive a good order.

In due time he calls for the proof, expresses satisfaction, but states that before giving the order, he must take it back to the governor.

He has now a clean piece of paper inscribed with the name of a reputable firm. He immediately writes upon it an order to another firm in the same line of business, stating that the goods are required in a hurry, and that our representative will call for them at a certain time.

Before there is time for correspondence he calls, and, stating that he has come for the goods referred to in the letter, coolly takes them away and leaves his victim to find perhaps some three months later, when an account is presented, that he has been duped, and that the firm to whom the goods were supposed to have been supplied have never even heard of the transaction.

When he is dealing with heavy and valuable goods this swindler, true to the principle that thoroughness pays, will frequently present himself with a cart which he has hired, and upon which he has invested a few shillings' worth of paint. And when the victim sees a substantial cart, with the name of his supposed customer on it, he is less likely than ever to request cash with order.

Another dodge of the letter-head swindler is to use this device as a means for persuading tradesmen to cash worthless cheques. He will loaf about small districts and note the names of the tradesmen's carts that deliver goods.

He will then have expensive note-paper headed with the name of one or more houses. On this he will write a request to the tradesman to cash a small cheque for my friend Mr. Cheatem. Armed with this, he will dress himself well, lounge into the shop in the earlier part of the morning, explain that he is staying at the particular house, draw an excuse for being suddenly short of cash, and in most cases obtain money for his worthless cheque.

It is more than probable that the tradesman will not carry in his head an accurate recollection of his customer's handwriting. He may never have seen it, as these bills are usually paid in coin. But if it happens that he does notice the handwriting the swindler is perfectly prepared.

The swindler will immediately explain that the lady of the house is indisposed and that it is the handwriting of her sister who is staying with her. However, if the tradesman would prefer it, he could doubtless obtain the lady's own written request, though he would have to send it into her bedroom; and, as he wants the money at once, he would be very greatly obliged if the tradesman could manage to send a man back with him to the house with the money, to be handed over when the man is satisfied.

This impudent bluff generally does the trick. The tradesman will not make trouble, even if he still suspects. He might possibly refuse, or send the man as requested, in which case the swindler would contrive to give him the slip.

Brave Marmaduke

Darling! The young man's tones were low and impassioned as he knelt at the fair girl's feet and pleaded with her. I would do anything for you, he vowed! For you I would give up all I have in the world; for you I would journey out to the ends of the earth; for you I would even lay down life itself, and count myself honored!

The maid cast down her eyes. Marmaduke, she replied, in dulcet accents, if you would do all that for me, perhaps for my sake you would do one little thing more.

Yes, yes, he raved, his voice thick with love; only tell me, beloved—tell me your command, and I will fulfill it, though the whole world be against me!

The maid looked at him pretty straight.

Then, would you kindly take your left knee off my right foot? she said calmly. You're kneeling on my favorite corn.

A Railway Expert

A Scotsman who had been employed nearly all his life in the building of railways in the Highlands of Scotland, went to the United States in his later years and settled in a new section on the plains of the Far West. Soon after his arrival a project came up in his new home for the construction of a railway through the district, and the Scotsman was applied to as a man of experience in such matters.

Hoot, mon, said he to the spokesman of the scheme, ye canna build a railway across this country.

Why not, Mr. Ferguson?

Why not? he repeated, with an air of effectually settling the whole matter. Why not? And dinna ye see the country's as flat as a floor, and ye hae nae place whatever to run your tunnels through!

The transition from winter's cold to summer's heat frequently puts a strain upon the system that produces internal complications, always painful and often serious. A common form of disorder is dysentery, to which many are prone in the spring and summer. The very best remedy is Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. It is a standard remedy, sold everywhere.

Yes, said the small boy to the reporter, who was looking for some news to put in his paper, mother fell downstairs and broke three legs.

Phaw! What are you giving me, youngster? cried the reporter. Don't be too funny. Your mother hasn't got three legs.

I didn't say she had, retorted the wicked boy. The legs belonged to a table which mother fell against. She wasn't hurt at all.

Doctor Recommends Postum from Personal Test.

No one is better able to realize the injurious action of caffeine—the drug in coffee—on the heart, than the doctor. Tea is just as harmful as coffee because it, too, contains the drug caffeine.

When the doctor himself has been relieved by simply leaving off coffee and using Postum he can refer with full conviction to his own case.

A Mo. physician prescribes Postum for many of his patients because he was benefited by it. He says:

"I wish to add my testimony in regard to that excellent preparation—Postum. I have had functional or nervous heart troubles for over 15 years, and a part of the time was unable to attend to my business."

"I was a moderate user of coffee and did not think drinking it hurt me. But on stopping it and using Postum instead, my heart has got all right, and I ascribe it to the change from coffee to Postum."

"I am prescribing it now in cases of sickness, especially when coffee does not agree, or affects the heart, nerves or stomach."

"When made right it has a much better flavour than coffee, and is a vital sustainer of the system. I shall continue to recommend it to our people, and I have my own case to refer to." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

Direct to Consumer

The Nightingale Farmers Supply Association is a combination of farmers which has opened a stall in the Calgary market to supply Alberta potatoes direct to the consumers in that city. Being dissatisfied with the regular channels of distribution and also believing that Alberta potatoes were being discriminated against by dealers in the home market, these farmers of Nightingale Union took the direct route to the consumers, placing a man in Calgary to attend to the marketing. They are now contemplating trying to get in touch with other farm products; but for the present their game is Alberta potatoes.

Prosperity and Progress of Great West

During the first seven months of 1912, building permits which in total value exceeded $71,000,000 were taken out in the nineteen largest cities of Western Canada. This figure is nearly $22,000,000 in excess of that for the corresponding period last year. That's something of a record for a district with a population of only two million. Think of it! Over ten million dollars in building each month; nearly $400,000 per day! And that does not take into consideration all the building going on in the hundreds of smaller towns and cities. Besides, this Western Canada country is building five miles of railway every working day in the year, opening three new towns every week, and raising crops that are the wonder of the agricultural world. She is also opening up vast deposits of natural gas, coal, iron, merchantable clay, etc. She has the greatest and most compact forests on the continent. Can that combination of natural resources be beaten? Western Canada is destined to be the greatest agricultural and the greatest manufacturing district in the world. That's safe prediction. Every authority who has investigated has given as his opinion that the district from the great lakes to the Pacific Ocean has an assortment of natural advantages that cannot be surpassed anywhere and is capable of supporting an exceptionally dense population.

What will that record be when Western Canada has achieved the population that must be hers? When a hundred are making their homes here to everyone now, when besides the click of the binder there will be a constant whirl of factory wheels, when the western box cars will be carrying the finished product instead of the raw material.

Surely no one would attempt to limit the expansion of activities of this great Western Canada.

Interest Rates Increase

British capitalists say that money has been lent to the Canadian people at lower interest than will be the case hereafter. In the past Canada has been able to borrow from Britain money at from three and a half per cent. to four and a half and five per cent. The enormous expansion of Britain's own home industries and the everwidening field of safe investments in all parts of the world will no doubt mean that in future Canada will have to pay from four and a half to six per cent. for the cash she desires to borrow from the old land. However, as little as possible should be borrowed, but instead Canadians should be encouraged to invest their own money in the country's legitimate enterprises.—Toronto Globe.

We do not see any line of business over done but we desire to see each one prosper. A town that is over supplied by any one line of business cannot prosper as will the town where there is the proper proportion. We should not encourage any man to locate here to engage in any business already sufficiently represented, but if any new business seeks a location and there is a demand for that business, let us give it all the encouragement and patronage we can after it is located. There are many ways to boost a town. Let us study them and put them in practice.

People who were here a year ago and return are struck at once with the wonderful changes that have taken place in the town. The rapidity with which it is building up is astonishing even to us who have been here while these changes were going on. And the growth promises to continue. There are a number of new buildings contemplated. "See Gleichen and get busy", has been the experience of most people who have come here.

That old, old story did not prove quite true Friday evening. What is it again boys and girls? "Sticks and stones may break my bones, but names will never hurt me." Ask Bill and Emiel.

Harvesting is about over in this district and the merry sound of the separator is heard throughout the land. While more than double the number of separators have already arrived at Gleichen than any previous year there are more to arrive and several of our prosperous farmers arrive in town every morning to see if their new outfits have arrived. This surely is the best indication of the bumper crops in this district and speaks volumes for the prosperity of the country. All depends on the prosperity of the farmer, and generally speaking he will be prosperous this fall.

As regards the early maturing of wheat it will be interesting to know how many farmers will make a move to secure Marquis or Prelude wheat for seeding next year. The Marquis wheat will ripen from ten days to two weeks earlier than varieties now commonly sown. This makes wheat raising much less of a speculation in this district. It should result in revolutionizing the crop areas, and give wheat a much larger place in the percentage of cereal products. The success which Mr. Wheeler of Rosthern obtained with Marquis wheat at New York, winning the $1,000 prize against world-wide competition, demonstrated that early ripening is not obtained at the expense of quality.

ONE DOLLAR DOWN AND ONE DOLLAR PER WEEK

For five years pays for an improved fruit tract in B. C. At the end of the five years it should bring you in $500 to $1,500 per year.

Actual Government Reports for the Kootenay Lake District show greater results from ONE ACRE;

There is hardly a man, woman or child in the United States or Canada who cannot afford One Dollar Per Week to establish a home in an ideal country like the famous Kootenay Lake District. In five years a clear title to one acre of improved bearing orchard is delivered to you or your heirs.

I have set aside five hundred acres of choice fruit land, and as soon as I have sold that out your opportunity is lost. I want every man, woman or child who reads this ad to send in their dollar at once and secure an acre tract on the above terms. Write for full particulars of the best offer ever made to those who wish a home in an ideal climate, where you will have honest and congenial neighbors.

I sell five, ten and twenty acre tracts on very easy monthly payments. Also give a big discount for cash. Join one of my monthly excursions and see the country for yourself. August 30 is my next date. A big bunch went up June 27—all bought from me except two. Pretty good evidence that what I am offering is right, isn't it? I have sold to several hundred people since January 1st. I live there myself. Have my own fruit ranch on the shores of the beautiful Kootenay Lake. I want you for my neighbor in B. C., and I am sure you will want to be when you see the country. My new way to grow apples will interest you. Also the famous Kootenay Magazine tells all about the fruit and other industries of Southern B. C. Subscription price $2.50 per year, or sent free for a year on receipt of twenty names of friends or relatives who might be interested in B. C. fruit lands. My booklet, "Home-seeking," tells you how I spent five years in the West looking for what we all want—an ideal location for a home. It's free.

With the Boy Scouts to Calgary

(By Scoutmaster P. Maclean)

At last the great day arrived, the troop with hearts beating high awaited the oncoming transport. The tearful goodbyes were said, and the baggage piled aboard, while the sorrowing mothers and sisters with heavy hearts wondered how the boy soldiers could be so care-free, and the engine with great deep-drawn sighs sobbed so pitifully as the train pulled out.

But for the boys, were there not in front the glorious panoply of — whoa Pegasus you nearly had me if that time peace, the alluring joys of the great city, which if all be true is one of the seven wonders of the American World, that city which vaunteth not herself, is not puffed up; the prospect of being inspected by the Governor General of Canada and of seeing the stampede with its dare-devil riders and their marvelous feats of horsemanship.

These thoughts filled the minds of the lads to the exclusion of all else, and the train journey soon passed. Arrived at Calgary we were met by Mr. Ewart of the 6th Cavalry troop and several of the boys with a hand cart. The baggage was taken over by them and with Mr. Ewart as our guide we set out for Hillhurst which camp was being pitched. As darkness was fast creeping down, we had to rush things on our arrival, but the boys, like veterans promptly annexed the three best tents and just as soon as the handcart arrived, the blankets were unrolled and beds made down. By this time too, we had boiling water ready, food was unpacked, tea and coffee made, and the boys made their supper under canvas. From the ridge of the hill nearby a splendid view of the illumination could be had and some of the boys had their first impression of what it was like, with its myriads of twinkling and luminous haze clear-cut against the darkness looks like.

That first night turned out most disagreeable. All night long the rain fell in torrents, while the raw cold air seemed to penetrate everything. So disagreeable cold was it that I was not surprised to find in the morning that some of the boys, like myself, had been unable to sleep.

With the first peep of day I was astir and looking for dry kindling to get a fire started. This was a matter of some difficulty but at last we got it going, the kettle was soon on, but owing to the wetness of the wood it was some time before breakfast was ready. Meantime to avoid wet feet I had the boys remain in their tents as long as possible.

Just as breakfast was over word came in that we were to break camp and go to Paget Hall, so once more the baggage was packed and, leaving it to be brought on, we set off for the city. The youthful sports were for jorjoring on the street-cars but as they were feeling the rawness of the morning I decided that a run and a brisk walk would do them more good.

As the Calgary troops arrived one after another, the hall was crowded, and nothing but noise and confusion reigned. After a time some degree of order was evolved out of the chaos, the troops fell in and were numbered off, Gleichen being thenceforward the No. 8 troop. Just before leaving the Hall a message was delivered to the boys from the Chief Scout, Sir Robert Baden-Powell by a gentlemen from London, Eng., who is visiting scouts in all parts of the world, even in such an out of the way country as Siam.

I had my boys paraded with coats and jackets, but just before leaving an order was issued forbidding the wearing of coats. I entered an emphatic protest but it was of no use. Of the day itself, the less said the better—enough that it was as disagreeable as it could well be—and the governing authorities were not well prepared for it as orders were issued and cancelled with bewildering confusion.

We lined the streets at three points, 8th Avenue, 1st Street east, and the Stampede grounds, getting a glimpse of the Duke on each occasion as he passed in a closed carriage.

Immediately the parade was over the boys were dismissed, and could do as they pleased, stay for the Stampede or return to quarters, the temptation to remain was too much for two of the boys and I lost them in the crowds at the show ground. The remainder returned up-town, and as there was no arrangements for heating or drying clothes at the Hall, we went to an outfitters and secured stockings for all the boys. At the hall after a brisk rub-down and a good hot cup of tea, all felt more comfortable and once the clothes were dry the boys went out to see the sights. I endeavored to keep them together, but soon all but two had disappeared. Look which way I would there was no trace and I thought of the Pied Piper of Hamelin with the opening cave in the mountain wall. To be sure there were several caves still open, but into which they had entered was hard to tell. Feeling convinced that they were in one of the many picture shows, but with just an anxious tinge haunting me I retraced my steps to the Hall.

Here an impromptu camp concert was being given by the Calgary boys and what with songs, recitations and blindfold boxing bouts and refreshments a pleasant evening was spent. Before long my errand knights had returned and were sound asleep finding more comfortable quarters than on the previous night. Morning came all too soon, and with it prospects of a more pleasant day as the weather had cleared during the night.

Breakfast at 8 and parade at 10, then took our way to the Stampede grounds to pass inspection by the Duke. Owing to the mud, the inspection was held in the Agricultural Building. The inspection was made doubly interesting by the parade of Mounted Police of 1874, and the Indian Chiefs many of whom carried presents to the Duke which they handed over as they were introduced to His Royal Highness. The Duke accompanied by his staff walked along our lines, shaking the hands of and chatting to the scout masters. Just as he reached our line one of the boys fainted and the Duke was quite solicitous for his welfare as he was carried off by the stretcher bearers.

That we should have drawn so much attention caused considerable jealousy and it was a put-up job on our part. The inspection was over shortly after eleven and we had the remainder of the day before us, and having packed a box with food it was not necessary to leave the Stampede grounds. Boys are the same the world over, and soon they were sampling everything eatable—popcorn, peanuts, ice cream, ginger pop but like ostriches nothing comes amiss to boys.

The attractions of the Stampede soon began to pall and as the boys were disappearing one by one, we left early visiting some of the large stores where the boys wished to secure mementoes of their visit.

The remainder of the day was spent visiting shows and a very tired but happy lot of boys returned by the midnight train to Gleichen.

The Devil's Soliloquy.

(Suggested by hearing a man speak disparagingly of a young girl)

One night as the devil sat musing alone
In the midst of a cosy warm fire,
Trying to figure the difference in guilt
Between a thief and an all-round liar;
His memory turned to scenes of his youth.

And his eyes filled with hot, boiling tears;
So he took down his ledger and turned to a page

Dated back about six thousand years
"I suppose", he exclaimed, as he glanced through the book,

"I'm doing the best that I can,
For my business denotes a continual increase

Ever since the creation of man.
I've cribbed a good harvest for six thousand years,

And should be content with the yield
And give my opponent permission to have

The gleanings I leave in the field.

"I've gathered a very diversified crop
Of merchants and lawyers galore;
I've bound politicians in bundles until
The ends of my fingers are sore.

I've fiddled, gamblers, and insurance men;

I've murdered, forgers and liars,
I've filled up my furnace with green
populists,

Till they actually put out the fires.
I've railroaded conductors, and doctors to spare,

Horse-traders and preachers to spend Republicans, Democrats, Tories and Whigs,

And three or four newspaper men,
But there is one class, I am happy to say,

Can never gain entrance here:
Their souls are so dirty, I am sure that they would

Demoralize hell in a year.

I refer to that "thing" neither human,
nor beast,

The carrion crow of the world—
Who is never happy, unless he can feast

On the wreck of an innocent girl.
A million of years in my warmest of rooms

His slanders would never atone;
So I give him a match and advise him to start

A select little hell of his own."

With his fingers he lit an asbestos cigar,

And placing his book on a shelf,
He muttered: "I may be a very bad man,

But I've got 'some' respect for my self."

Rev. and Mrs. S. J. Stocken left on Friday to spend a month with friends on the Sarcee reserve, west of Calgary. They may spend a few weeks further west before returning to Gleichen.

The Scouts at Gleichen GLEICHEN AS SHE IS "SPOKE"

Shortly before the Royal Train arrived the Boy Scouts looking fresh and smart were again on parade looking not a whit jaded or the worse of their arduous trip to Calgary. They were formed up in line across the platform facing a carpet spread for the Royal feet to tread upon, a reminder of a chivalrous deed of that doughty gallant Sir Walter Raleigh in the days of the Good Queen Bess. As His Royal Highness stepped from the car the boys came smartly to attention and gave the Royal Salute. His Royal Highness then came forward and shaking hands with the Scoutmaster complimented him on the smart appearance of the boys. In conversation he enquired as to the number of boys in the troop and said he had inspected somewhere about 30,000 boys west at Toronto, Saskatoon, Prince Albert and Calgary, etc. The Scout movement he said was held in great regard in the highest circles in the Old Country and one which they hoped would continue to grow as the laws and principals laid down if lived up too, were such that they would make our boys more manly and upright in their lives and he hoped the Scoutmaster would stay with the movement and help it all he could as it made not only for the moral improvement of the youth of Canada, but was one of the great binding links of the Empire. He was glad to be able to inspect the Gleichen Scouts and hoped they would remain true to the Scout laws and training.

He thereafter presented the life saving medal to Scout Isaac Allen and as he gave it to him he said: This will be a reminder in days to come of a gallant deed and also something for the boy whose life was saved to remember with gratitude. I have great pleasure in presenting you with this life saving medal. The Duke then turned to the city fathers, and while this was going on the boys wheeled their line so as to face the Royal motor. As the party moved off they again came to attention, the Scoutmaster saluting as His Royal Highness passed.

The occasion will be a memorable one for the Scouts of Gleichen and many years may pass before such another opportunity may arise but the Scouts of Gleichen may do themselves honor and as creditably as the Scouts of 1912. At Calgary they drilled better than any other of the Scout Troops and the other Scoutmasters were not slow to remark the fact, and their conduct all through was such as to bring credit to themselves and also to the town of Gleichen.

The Scoutmaster also thinks that the fact should not pass unnoticed that the railway and other incidental expenses were borne by one of our citizens, who does his good deeds without looking for that publicity so much desired by many of us. Had it not been for his magnanimity the trip would not have been possible and an opportunity of a life time lost to the boys.

The boys and myself wish to tender our grateful thanks for a most enjoyable outing and experience.

Gleichen needs a good hospital. The institute would make a good starting point. Think it over.

We always feel sorry for a business man who cannot say something to a couple thousand customers in an ad. once a week.

The Bow Valley Call will very shortly call every item of news worth while in this great valley—Watch our Call.

"The purchase of $1,000 of goods in your own town or your own country, instead of purchasing outside, means the addition of one person to your town or your country instead of supporting him abroad."

Word has been received that Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Maisey are happy over the arrival of a son at their fruit ranch near Cranbrook, B.C., on Sept. 2nd. Their many Gleichen friends will join in extending congratulations.

Rev. A. Gandier preached very acceptably in St. Andrew's church on Sunday evening last, Rev. Canon Stocken taking the rest of the services.

Unquestionably it is true that rich people are becoming more plentiful than ladies and gentlemen. Vulgar individuals decorated with precious stones sail down our streets or crowd our drawing rooms. And our eyes are so dazzled that we overlook their defects as men and women, and yearn to go and do likewise. The country is full of people who are cultivating a champagne taste on a beer salary. Their determination to get rich overrides all morality, all reason, and there are consequences, often rude and terrible.

We take the following from the Calgary News-Telegram:

Sir:—According to your paper of to-night, H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught says the way to pronounce Gleichen is "Glyken"

You've only got half the yarn, for the Duke being able to speak German about as well as English, would never pronounce the German "ch" like a "k". If in doubt ask Supt. Iversen.

"Ch" in German is pronounced about the same as the Scottish "ch" in lock or "gh" in the Irish lough, a sound by the way, few Englishmen can make, and few Canadians also, as they say here "Lawshed" for "Loughheed."

So when you're after the proper pronunciation of "Gleichen", you may as well get it right and not make H. R. H. say (Irish Bull) what he never said.

So three cheers for the "IRISH." P. S:—The "y" part of your proposition is about O. K., as you likely know without my telling you.

Scars That Stay

There are people who tell you that everything in the body is changed every seven years, and that there is no part of it which was there seven years ago. This does not mean that the body changes its form all at once, as a snake does its skin or a deer its antlers, but simply that the innumerable and tiny atoms which are used up by the daily wear and tear are replaced by fresh atoms supplied by our food and drink, which keep the body going, just as coal and water keep the steam-engine at work.

But these changes are so minute and gradual that the form of the body remains the same, although such things as scars take a long time to disappear and sometimes they remain for life, although they always lose a great deal of their prominence.

You may have noticed that if you cut your finger lightly it will soon heal up and the scar presently disappear, just as the marks of a superficial burn will gradually go away; but if the cut is deep the scar remains. This is because it went down to what is called the true skin. Any cuts, stains, or burns on the outer skin are gradually pushed up and worn or washed off, just as the hair on the back of your hand wears off without your cutting it and grows again; but anything that goes down to the true skin, like tattoo marks, always remains.

Jim—What did the telephone girl say when she handed back Jack's solitaire and broke the engagement.

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Like many another Newfoundlander living far from doctors, Mr. Stone feels unbounded gratitude for the benefits obtained from the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

For years he had suffered from a congested condition of the liver and kidneys, with headaches, backaches, pains in limbs and body. Words fail to describe his sufferings as well as the gratitude he wants to express for the cure.

Mr. Alex J. Stone, West Point, Nfld., writes:—"I suppose you thought I had forgotten all about you when I got Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, but I haven't. You must excuse mistakes, for like many Newfoundlander men I have not much education, but I want to thank you many times for your medicine."

"I cannot tell you what I suffered from liver and kidney derangements, indigestion and constipation, nor can I find words to express how much I feel better than I have for five years."

"I have given some of these pills to friends, who tell me they have done them a wonderful lot of good. I want to express my heartfelt gratitude for the benefits derived from the great medicine."

PRISON TIGERS

Exploits of Untamable Convicts

No, it is not the old lags who give the most trouble, said an officer in one of our great convict prisons to a newspaper representative. Men who have served several terms invariably learn sense. One of the best-convicts in prison has served a term of thirty years in all. They say he was like a wild beast when he first came in, and that he was bashed (flogged) three times during his first lagging. Now you could trust him to do his job without an officer in sight of him.

You believe in flogging, then?

Certainly I do. It's the only hold we have over the desperate type of criminal. Now and then we get a kind of wild beast in the shape of a man that is every bit as dangerous as a tiger fresh out of the jungle. Nothing but a bashing does one of that sort any good. They had one of that kind in Portland lately. On May 11th of last year he was being brought in from the quarry, when the officer in charge of the gang told him to walk quicker. He lifted his pickaxe and caught the warden over the head and very nearly killed him. The visiting justices ordered him thirty lashes with the cat, which is the severest punishment that has been given in Portland for more than twenty years past.

You don't often hear of a man being taken out of prison, tried afresh, and given a fresh sentence for something he did in prison. But that is what happened at Parkhurst a few years ago. A chap who was just one of these mad beasts I'm telling you about went for another lag and precious nearly killed him. They had him up at Winchester Assizes. The judge gave him another ten years and said he wished he could have made it fifteen.

The suffragettes give a deal of trouble, ventured the contributor.

I believe they do; but they're not the only ones that have to be forcibly fed. They had a man in Carmarthen Prison—a German, accused of murdering three people all at once—who would sit quite still all day, without speaking or moving; he wouldn't eat, and would have died of starvation if they hadn't used the tube. Everyone tried their hand with him—governor, chaplain, doctor—but no one could do anything with him. He even had to be dressed and undressed like a doll. Anyone might have thought he was crazy; but the doctors didn't believe so. They reckoned he was the finest malingering that ever was seen in prison.

Some of the younger prisoners are worse than the older men. What do you think of this case, now?

A middle-aged man named Cully was arrested at Darlington about two years ago, and put in the same cell with a lad whose name I won't mention, as he is still alive. In the middle of the night Cully took out a piece of cord which he had hidden in the lining of his coat.

Who's going first? he said to the lad.

Well, I'm not going, said the boy. Cully then hanged himself while the boy lay and watched him, and never made a sound.

Why didn't you shout? asked the coroner, at the inquest next day.

I forgot, said the boy.

The worst prisoner on record was a big Italian named Mayoni, who was lying in a Northern prison charged with murder. One morning early he began smashing everything in his cell, and before the officers could gather he had managed to burst the door.

How he did it was a wonder, for three ordinary men couldn't have made any impression on it.

Then he came rushing out, armed with a piece of lead pipe, which he had wrenched from the wall, and it looked as if someone was going to be killed. One of the officers ran upstairs, got on the gallery above and chucked a bucket of cold water down on Mayoni's head. Then the others made a rush. You'll hardly believe it, but it took fifteen men to get him down and handcuff him!

Dear Sirs,—I had a Bleeding Tumor on my face for a long time and tried a number of remedies without any good result. I was advised to try MINARD'S LINIMENT, and after using several bottles it made a complete cure, and it healed all up and disappeared altogether.

DAVID HENDERSON.

Belleisle Station, Kings Co., N.B., Sept. 17, 1904.

Spurgeon was once asked if the man who learned to play a cornet on Sunday would go to heaven.

The great preacher's reply was characteristic. Said he, I don't see why he should not, but—after a pause—I doubt whether the man next door will.

She had tried vainly to stop the tram in the usual feminine fashion, but without result. Until at least eight people had shouted "Hi, stentoriously," and half a dozen small boys had entered for an impromptu whistling competition.

At last she was aboard, and she glared viciously at the conductor.

Why didn't you stop the car for me? she demanded.

How was I to know you wanted to get on? he retorted.

Didn't you see me swinging my arms and jumping up and down and vigorously waving my umbrella?

Course I did, he said agreeably. Nobody could help it. The whole street was looking at you!

Then why didn't you stop? she asked in exasperation.

Oh, I thought you were just dancing to the street-organ! was the conductor's quiet reply.

A good story is told of Dr. Fitchett of the Australian Parliament. During a debate in Parliament on some education question a member of the Opposition became rather excited, and exclaimed—

Why, at this very moment I have a school in my eye, where—

Not quite, interrupted Dr. Fitchett, only one pupil, I believe.

LET MOONEY DO IT

THE BUGABOO OF BAKE DAY

MAKES LIFE DREARY IN MANY A HOME

The great bulk of home baking is no longer necessary. "Let MOONEY do it." MOONEY'S BISCUITS are made right at your own door and are on your grocer's shelves as fresh as they leave the oven.

They are the only biscuit which comes to your table fresh enough to take the place of your own home baking.

MOONEY'S PERFECTION SODA BISCUITS

are sold in air-tight packages—or sealed tins. If you have never used them you have a delightful treat in store.

Economy

The services in the chapel of a certain western university are from time to time conducted by eminent clergymen of many denominations and from many cities.

On one occasion, when one of these visiting divines asked the president of the university how long he should speak, that witty officer replied:

There is no limit, doctor, upon the time you may preach; but I may tell you that there is a tradition here that the most souls are saved during the first twenty-five minutes.

The Lady—So you're really one of the striking miners.

The Loafer—Yus, lily. I'm wot they call one o' the pioneers o' the movement. I went on strike twenty-three years ago, lily, and I ain't never give in yet.

Not a Waiter

Armed with guns and huge game bags, the two Irishmen sallied forth in search of sport. It was their first venture at shooting and they were dreadfully keen.

Suddenly Casey spotted a bird; and taking careful aim, prepared to fire the fatal shot. Then Pat seized him by the arm frantically.

For mercy's sake don't fire, Casey, he yelled. Sure, an' ye've forgotten to load your gun!

That's a, may be, my lad, retorted Casey, but fire I must. Begorra! the bird won't wait.

ROAD TO NORTH SEA

COCHRANE BELIEVES IN HUDSON BAY ROUTE

Visits the North and Returns With First Hand Information—Has Now Every Faith in Practicability of the Undertaking, and Will Put Energy Into the Work.

Ottawa.—I have returned from the North to convert to the Hudson Bay route, if I needed conversion. I have returned with every faith in the scheme; I will shove this road for all I'm worth.

Thus spoke Hon. Frank Cochrane on his return to his office from his trip over the route of the railroad and home by the Bay Straits.

He was in conference most of the day with J. P. Gordon, assistant engineer of the road, and other experienced men as regards the terminals.

I see, said Mr. Cochrane, that the papers are saying Port Nelson has been selected as the terminals. This is not correct; I have not come to a decision. The engineers are working on the pros and cons of the route, weighing the advantages and disadvantages of the two ports. I want to be absolutely right in my decision.

I expect the answer of the engineers within a day or so and then there will be a final announcement.

It is understood that Mr. Cochrane found Port Churchill by far the best natural route. It will take several millions to make Nelson an up-to-date terminal.

On the other hand the Nelson route is eighty-five miles shorter. This is one thing the engineers are estimating, as to whether the saving by the shorter route to Nelson overbalances the extra harbor cost or not.

We intend to make this a good road and make no mistake, said Mr. Cochrane with emphasis. It will be a splendidly built line; we have a fourth-grade grade, we are using 80 lb rails so you will see it is no poor line.

I believe that the Hudson Bay route will mean much to the West in the way of lower freight rates. It will be a real leveler East and West. Just consider how much cheaper iron, steel, and coal for instance, from Sydney, could be shipped to the prairies. It will be of the greatest advantage to the East and I believe Eastern opposition is dying out.

We found the bay free from ice—in fact the only ice we saw to amount to anything was the bergs near Belle Isle, where all the Atlantic steamers encounter them.

The straits are very wide, and with the aid of the wireless I believe can be kept open for a long period. Wireless stations and other aids to navigation will be established as soon as needed.

The Government steamers Arctic and Minto are under orders to remain as long as possible in the straits to find out definitely how long they are open. If the route was only open two months after the wheat of the west started to move it would be worth while, as you are as near Liverpool as from Halifax.

Saskatoon which is about the centre of the wheat growing district, I am told, is six hundred miles from Nelson and nine hundred or thereabouts from Fort William.

At Fort William there is still fifteen hundred miles to go to reach Montreal, while the ocean route to England is about the same as from Hudson Bay.

The insurance of course will be higher for some years at least while the season is short and it may be hard to make ends meet in the race first. However, I believe they will shortly, in fact the will have to, if at all possible be reduced.

NATIVES TO VOTE

One of India's Rulers Will Try Interesting Experiment

London.—That the 500,000 natives who form the population of the Indian state of Jhalawar are to have a chance of trying constitutional government is due largely to their ruler's desire for a new sensation. The Maharaja of Jhalawar, is an enlightened despot who is allowed a pretty free hand by the British authorities, and while in London he amused himself by looking into the constitutional system. He was tickled to death by British parliamentary methods and immediately decided to experiment on his own account. Like a cautious despot, however, he isn't going to allow his subjects too much freedom all at once and he does not figure on giving votes to more than about five thousand of his most trustworthy men just yet.

ALASKAN BOUNDARY SURVEY

Party Reach Dawson After Marking Line Between Yukon and Alaska

Dawson.—The International Boundary survey party, which has been marking the line between Alaska and Yukon Territory, arrived here recently, having completed the task of surveying the 142nd meridian from the Pacific to the Arctic Ocean.

At the north end of the line a bronze monument was placed just out of reach of the highest waves and smaller monuments were set every three miles along the line.

Geologists accompanied the expedition and made a complete survey.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA TO RUSSIA

Her Majesty Will be Guest of Empress Marie This Winter

London.—Queen Alexandra will spend several weeks in Russia this coming winter. Her Majesty will be the guest of the Empress Marie at the castle of Gatchina, an interesting and picturesque imperial residence. The Queen-Dowager may visit the Kaiserin at Potsdam next month.

Immigrants for Fisheries

Vancouver.—Sir George Doughty, who has acquired large fishing interests in the Queen Charlotte Islands and other northern points, before leaving here for England today, declared that the Canadian government should do something towards bringing in a class of immigrants that could be used in the fisheries.

LLOYD-GEORGE MAY VISIT U.S.

Says He Will Take First Opportunity of Visiting the States

London.—Replying to a deputation of American-Wellshmen who invited him to attend the International Eisteddfod at Pittsburgh next year, Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George said he had received many invitations to visit the United States but of late years he had been rather busy—much busier than some people would like to see him. He certainly meant to avail himself of the first opportunity of paying that visit. It was, however, out of the question to accept an invitation for the next Fourth of July, but if there was a possibility that a more convenient day could be fixed, he would certainly take the matter into consideration.

Nothing, said Mr. Lloyd-George, would give him greater pleasure than to talk in their own tongue to his fellow countrymen in the great continent of America.

MONEY ORDERS IN THE YUKON

Post Office Department Re-Arrange Matters so that Cost be Halved

Ottawa, Ont.—The Finance Department announces an important improvement in the conditions under which business is transacted between the Yukon and other parts of Canada and the United States.

By an arrangement dating back to January 1, 1905, the cost of money orders issued at post offices in the Yukon, payable in Canada and the United States was double that charged elsewhere in Canada. The post office and Finance Department have recently been looking into the matter and have re-arranged the agreement with the Canadian Bank of Commerce so that the business is done on the same basis as that which prevails in other parts of the country, no special tolls being charged. Thus the cost of these transactions has been halved.

TOUR OF ENGLAND AND FRANCE

The "Presses" of Montreal Commends such a trip for Canadian Business Men

Montreal.—The Presse editorially commends the scheme of the Chambre de Commerce to organize a tour of England and France by Canadian business men representing all chambers of commerce throughout the Dominion.

The idea, says The Presse, is easy of realization. We are convinced every chamber of commerce throughout Canada will be glad to aid in the perfecting of such a scheme.

To a body of business men thus brought together the Government itself would, we feel sure, be happy to accord the sanction of its authority.

Grain Elevator Syndicate

Toronto.—Inquiry at the Toronto office of the Royal Securities Company regarding the purchase of 80 grain elevators in the west by Sir Max Aitken and Mr. Bennett, M.P. for Calgary, elicited the fact that Sir Max's trip to the West was taking with the expressed intention of putting this deal through.

The capacity of the elevators just purchased is three million bushels. It is the intention of the new company to ship their cargoes by way of the Pacific and through the Panama Canal.

Alberta Lumber Merger

Lethbridge.—One of the biggest deals which has been consummated this year, affecting the lumber business in southern Alberta, was closed when the Farmers' Lumber Company sold out its outside yards to the Citizens' and Pioneer Lumber Companies, which are now practically merged, with their head offices here.

Ten yards are affected, those sold are at Grassy Lake, Purple Springs, Winifred, Whittle, Milk River, New Dayton, Magrath, Diamond City, Taber and Burdett. The Lethbridge yard is retained by the Farmers' Lumber Co. No figures as to the amount of money involved in the deal have been made public.

Sir Thomas Lipton to Visit West

Toronto.—The Mail and Empire says: Sir Thomas Lipton has at last definitely decided to visit Canada. He will be in Toronto and other Canadian cities some time during October. The details of his itinerary have not been completed but will be known before long. He is leaving near the end of September with the object of taking a pleasure trip through the United States and Canada, especially the north-western portion of the Dominion. He intended to take this trip when he was in America in 1909 but was prevented from so doing. He intends this time to go as far as the Pacific Coast.

Lloyd's Gives China Loan

London.—An agreement for a loan to China for $50,000,000 at 5 per cent. for forty years, was signed August 30, by the Chinese minister and representatives of Lloyd's Bank. The loan is secured upon pledged revenue, chiefly the salt duty. It is to be free of control and supervision, which proved an obstacle to the loan by the six nation group. The salt duty however is to be controlled by the British Inspector-General of customs, in case of default.

How it Affects Canada

Wendell Jackson, an American, is said to have arranged the agreement. It is intended in some quarters that the Chinese minister was without the power to sign the agreement.

No Joke About It

London.—The Times, in an editorial this morning declares that the idea advanced by some American papers that the British Panama protest is not meant seriously is erroneous. The Times adds:

Great Britain has no intention of allowing her treaty rights to go by default, but will assert them by all the diplomatic means at her disposal and if these fail, she will demand arbitration at The Hague.

Naval Triple Alliance

London.—The Daily Graphic suggests that the decision of France to concentrate her fleet in the Mediterranean taken together with England's virtual desertion of the Mediterranean in favor of the North Sea, is the corollary of the recent Russo-French naval agreement, and indicates a practical understanding for a naval triple alliance between England, France and Russia.

GREAT RAILWAY CHAIN

HUGE RAILWAY PROJECT IN CHINA IS ADVOCATED

Dr. Sun Yat Sen Has a Progressive Programme for the Modernization of China—Concessions to be Given to Foreigners, and Country to be Opened to Foreign Enterprise.

Peking.—The project for a great scheme for Chinese railways, which holds the foremost place in Dr. Sun Yat Sen's programme for the modernization of China, has commanded the support of the Peking Government and it may involve a great extension of the privileges of foreigners in the country, and the possibilities of an immense increase in Chinese foreign trade.

The Government has authorized Dr. Sun Yat Sen, who was formerly provisional president of the Republic to establish a railway corporation to carry out a system of national railways covering territory 70,000 miles in extent.

Mixed Chinese and foreign companies will be granted concessions throughout China proper, for periods of 40 years, after which time the lines are to revert to China.

Similar concessions are to be given to foreigners for the intermediate districts, but the railroads in the frontier provinces will be under exclusively Chinese control and will be financed through foreign loans apart from the other railways.

Dr. Sen's proposals are to open the whole of China to foreign enterprise but to make foreigners amenable to Chinese laws, for which special courts are to be established.

The Government has not sanctioned the last feature of the projects, but Dr. Sen fully expects they will approve.

The French, German and American banks will participate with Lloyd's Bank in the new loans to China of $50,000,000 the agreement for which recently was signed.

The terms of this agreement include the starting of a bank, having its head office in London, with a prominent English financier as chairman of the board of directors, and a subordinate board at Peking.

The bank is to be capitalized at $10,000,000, half of which will be subscribed by Chinese.

President Yuan Shi Kai proposes to give Dr. Yat Sen 30,000 taels ($20,000) monthly to promote his scheme of railways throughout China, and the Provincial Assembly is expected to agree to this.

Dr. Sen proposes to borrow abroad giving the railways as security until the profits will pay the loans, whereupon the lines will become Government property.

This is considered a clever political move, for while many sections of the country distrust Yuan Shi Kai recognizing only his capability, Dr. Sun Yat Sen is a popular hero, who is most likely to persuade the National Assembly to accept foreign railways, which was the cause of revolution.

75,000 DEATHS IN CHINA STORM

Typhoon Means Millions Homeless and Destitute as Crops are Ruined

Shanghai.—That the number of deaths in the typhoon which swept Chekiang Province, August 29, was nearer 75,000 than 40,000, as first reported is indicated by messages received from Hankow, the provincial capital.

The number of homeless and destitute, it is stated, run into millions; unless aid is immediately forthcoming hundreds of thousands will die of starvation.

Local relief committees are doing their best to relieve the situation, but the magnitude of the disaster has swamped them.

The government lacks funds.

Several foreign missionaries are reported to have drowned.

The catastrophe's suddenness was appalling.

The storm began early in the morning and during the forenoon the wind attained hurricane violence.

About time for high tide there came a sudden torrential downpour of rain, which overflooded numerous streams, emptying into the Yellow sea along the Chekiang coast.

With rivers already over their shallow banks, the incoming tide rushed up their estuaries to an unprecedented height.

The water rose faster than a man could run and almost in an instant all the coast towns were inundated.

Then it receded with a rush, carrying several towns with all their inhabitants with it, leaving scarcely a trace of them behind.

Wenchow, with a population of 30,000, among the cities is practically obliterated.

Of Chu Chow and Tsin Tien little remains and of Keono nothing is left whatever.

Chekiang is the smallest, but one of the most thickly populated provinces in China.

It has nearly 127,000,000 inhabitants. Along the coast, very low and flat and gridironed by an immense number of canals and rivers the most intensive culture of its farm is necessary to support the people, and the destruction by the flood of thousands of acres of crops inevitably means an enormous loss of life by famine.

Shanghai and Hangchow, two of the most important cities in Eastern China also suffered considerably by the typhoon.

Russian Marines Arrested

London.—Four hundred men attached to the Battleship Ioann Zlatoust and the protected cruisers Kagul and Pamyat Merkuria, of the Russian Black Sea fleet have been arrested at Sebastopol according to an Odessa dispatch to the Standard.

Captain Shubin, one of those taken into custody attempted suicide. Many petty officers are included among the prisoners.

Arrests continue in connection with the arrests on warships and the private quarters of officers are being systematically searched.

BEAUTIFYING OTTAWA CITY

Sir Thomas Mawson Makes Some Suggestions to Premier Borden

Ottawa.—Sir Thomas Mawson, the celebrated English landscape architect who is in Ottawa en route to Vancouver, for which city he has drafted a scheme of natural development had a conference with Premier Borden in regard to the Government plans to further beautify the Capital.

It is understood that Mr. Mawson made some suggestions which would improve the plans of beautifying outlined by the existing improvement Commission.

Mr. Mawson declined to discuss the report he is likely to be engaged by the Government to carry on the work for the present Government.

No Joke About It

London.—The Times, in an editorial this morning declares that the idea advanced by some American papers that the British Panama protest is not meant seriously is erroneous. The Times adds:

Great Britain has no intention of allowing her treaty rights to go by default, but will assert them by all the diplomatic means at her disposal and if these fail, she will demand arbitration at The Hague.

THE MARKET REPORT

Weekly Grain Letter Supplied by Thompson, Sons & Co., Grain Merchants, Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Sept. 4.—During the past week there has been no improvement in the character of the weather over the spring wheat country of the United States and Western Canada. Days of bright sunshine and drying breezes have alternated with downpours of rain. In South Dakota and Minnesota threshing and movement has been delayed and where grain is standing in the fields in stacks the alternate soaking and drying is damaging the quality. In the north and west parts of North Dakota much of the crop is still uncut and where cut and ready to thresh is being delayed and to some extent depreciated by the rains. In the province of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta the situation is really discouraging. We have one of the finest crops on the ground ever raised in western Canada, taking yield and quality together, but probably not more than 50 to 55 per cent. of it is cut yet. It is practically all fully matured, very different from last year's crop at this time vast quantities of which were never matured but perished by the cold rains and frosty nights during August, and then later on could not be harvested owing to continued rains and in some places snow, the same being most unfavorable for saving and threshing the grain that was cut, and yet for all that the wheat turned out within the twelve months a tremendous quality of wheat of one grade and another, all of which has seemingly been used up. This season up to the present time, frost which is always watched for in August has scarcely been hinted at, and the fact that the temperature has been averaging about 15 degrees higher than at this time a year ago has along with the superabundance of rain, produced atmospheric and soil conditions which while not preventing the maturing grain from ripening, have laid down a good deal of the uncut unmatured grain, delayed cutting and the subsequent work of stacking and threshing, and is now in danger of causing damage by sprouting the grain standing in stacks. The weather during the latter part of August and up to this date has been distinctly unreasonable. The rains and thunderstorms and high temperature have been such as would be called seasonable in June and first half of July. The trees which should be beginning to change to autumn tints are still luxuriantly green, and lawns and grass fields are as green as one looks for them to be in June. After last year's experience, however, when the weather from August to December was the worst for maturing and saving the crops over Western Canada which we had seen in nearly thirty years, and after all had at least 180,000,000 bushels of wheat of one grade and another, we think there is no fear but that out of this year's crop we will produce quite as much grain, and of much higher average quality than the former and his family, who after the hard work of starting the crop, and having their hopes raised throughout a fairly favorable growing season (with the exception of the short drought and hot weather scare in June) are plunged in the worry and almost impossible hard work and expense of securing the crop now that it has come to satisfactory maturity. A spell of cool weather, even with some sharp night frosts would, we think, be generally welcomed if it would only settle the weather, and bring a period of dry and bracing conditions which would allow harvest and threshing work to go ahead. In regard to the market situation while the old crop supplies have been worked down to a very low point, resulting in the prices being kept very high, the anticipated large production of this year's crop in the United States, Canada and Russia has caused a very pronounced bearish speculative sentiment in regard to the values of the new crops, and prices for future delivery months are at a very large discount from cash wheat for immediate delivery. This difference will gradually adjust itself as the days go by and supplies of new wheat become larger. The unseasonable weather over America and in a less degree in Western Europe, has served to check the downward trend of futures but in spite of this prices in the various speculative markets have declined 2c. to 4c. on the week. Along with this decline there is seen a large increase in the commercial demand. The unfortunate weather in western Europe has delayed the movement of wheat from farmer to miller, so that a considerable extra demand for foreign wheat has resulted which has led to increase purchases for immediate export from the United States and Russia, and U.S. flour trade is enjoying a great increase in trade the grinding by Minneapolis mills being only limited by the slow movement towards them of the new crop. Ocean freight continues to advance which in a measure handicaps export trade in the meantime. There has been very little change in the position of visible stocks and supplies over the week, but with a free movement of the new crop these will soon begin to increase. Favorable soil conditions await the preparing for and seeding of the new winter crop in the U.S. and the latest report about the growing crops in Australia and the Argentine are entirely favorable.

Our Winnipeg market has not been so active during the past week, although there has been a good demand for all grades of old wheat and there is about 1c. advance on these from a week ago. There is, however, very little of this old wheat left that is fit for the miller. The total quantity of all grades in store terminal elevators is 2,511,000 bus. but of 1,737,000 bus. is under No. 5, a lot of it being condemned bin burnt stuff hardly fit for hog feed. The remainder amounting to about 774,000 bus. is made up of 60,000 bus. 1 Nor.; 118,000 bus. 2 Nor.; 242,000 bus. 3 Nor.; 169,000 bus. No. 4 wheat and 183,000 bus. No. 5. For several days past only about 10 cars of good milling wheat per day have been inspected at Winnipeg. Up to and including today only 22 cars of new wheat have been inspected, 17 of them Alberta Red Winter and 5 Spring Wheat. Last year at this time new wheat was arriving at Winnipeg at the rate of over 100 cars a day. Prices now paid or offered in this market for old crop and new crop show a wide difference. To-day's cash prices are as follows: Old Wheat 1 Northern, 105¢; 2 Nor. 104¢; 3 Nor. 97¢; No. 4 wheat, 87¢; No. 5, 74¢; No. 6, 64¢; Feed, 58¢; New wheat 1 Nor., 100¢; 2 Nor., 97¢; 3 Nor., 95¢. No lower grades of the new wheat than 3 Nor. are mentioned yet, so much for absence of frost. Alberta Red Winter Wheat new crop No. 1, 96¢; No. 2, 95¢; No. 3, 92¢. Futures closed October 91¢; December, 88¢ & ¼ and May 92¢.

The demand for oats continues good, and as the quantity of old crop oats left of the higher grades is very small prices continue high. To-day's cash prices are 2 C.W., 43¢; 3 C.W., 41¢; Ex. 1 Feed, 42¢; 1 Feed, 41¢; 2 Feed, 37¢. Futures closed October 35¢; December 33¢.

There is nothing doing in barley.

Flax.—There is a fair demand for flax at about 4c. decline. To-day's cash prices are 1 N.W., 166¢; 1 Man. 184¢; Rejected, 158¢. The October future closed 161¢.

All prices are on basis of delivery.

Prices quoted are on basis of delivery in store Port William, Port Arthur and Duluth.

War Medal for Minister

Paris.—M. Millerand, the minister of war, has presented the Franco-Prussian war medal, the issue of which was authorized some time ago, to M. Leon Bourgeois, minister of public works, who fought as a 19-year-old volunteer in the garde nationale.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON XII.—THIRD QUARTER FOR SEPT. 22, 1912

Text of the Lesson, Mark v., 30-41.

Memory Verses, 41, 42—Golden Text, John vi 35—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The words of verse 30 are most practical and remind us of our great privilege of telling all that we do and teach to Jesus, receiving our messages from Him and trusting Him to work in us to will and to do of His good pleasure. It is the old lesson of Prov. iii, 6, "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths," and the new one of Phil. iv, 6, 7. There is nothing like talking it over with Him both before and after. I am always reminded by this verse in our lesson of a little book entitled "Tell Jesus," by Anna S. Wotton.

The words "No leisure so much as to eat" (verse 31) give us some idea of His day by day busy, crowded full life, for others, seven days a week, even on the Sabbath day (Mark i, 21-31; Matt. xii, 12; John ix, 4, 14), for he taught that it is lawful to do well on that day also. Our own works or words are not lawful on that day (Isa. lvi, 13, 14), neither do they count at any time. "Come apart and rest awhile" does sound refreshing to a weary one, but we shall see how they rested. When the people knew that He had started across the sea they ran after out of all cities and outwent them, and when Jesus came He saw much people and was moved with compassion and received them and, as was his custom spake unto them of the kingdom of God and healed them that had need of healing (verses 33, 34; Luke ix, 11). May the mention of the kingdom always lead us from the heart to say "Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done in earth as it is in heaven" (Matt. vi, 10), for less than that will not be the kingdom of God. John tells us that it was Passover time and that also suggests a phase of the kingdom, for at the last Passover Jesus said, "I will not any more eat thereof until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God" (Luke xxii, 16). That will be the time of Israel's restoration at the beginning of the millennial kingdom.

As the day began to wear away the disciples came to Jesus, asking Him to send the multitudes away that they might buy themselves bread, and to their astonishment, He said: They need not depart. Give ye them to eat."

To prove Philip He asked him, "Whence shall we buy bread that these may eat?" For He Himself knew what He would do, as He always does, for He is perfect in knowledge, and every purpose of His shall be performed (John vi, 5, 6; Job xxxv, 4; Jer. li, 29). Philip might wisely have replied, Lord, Thou knowest; Thou didn't feed many thousands in the wilderness for forty years and there is nothing too hard for Thee (Jer. xxxii, 17). But Philip knew neither his Lord nor himself, and on the night before the crucifixion Jesus had occasion to say to him, "Have I been so long time with you and yet hast thou not known me, Philip?" (John xvi, 9). Philip's reply in our lesson story (John vi, 7) shows that he was capable of and evidently did some mental figuring, but to him the case was hopeless.

Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, somehow found out that there was a lad in the company who had five barley loaves and two small fishes, and he ventured to mention it but with no hope that they would be of any service among so many. (John vi, 8, 9). Jesus said, "Bring them hither to Me," just as He said concerning the lunatic boy at the foot of the mount of transfiguration, "Bring him hither to me!" (Matt. xiv, 18; xvii, 17). The unfailing remedy for every trouble is, Tell it to Jesus, Bring it to Jesus, for He said, "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest."

Having made the multitude sit down in companies by hundreds and fifties on the green grass (verses 39, 40). He took the loaves and the fishes and looked up to heaven and gave thanks, blessing the food, and then gave it to the disciples to pass on to the multitudes. There would be at least fifty companies of a hundred each or a hundred companies of fifty each, so the disciples had enough to do to make them forget themselves for a while. We might like to know how He could divide five loaves and two small fishes among twelve disciples and how much each had to start with and just how the food multiplied as they gave it out but we are not told and so must leave it. We are told that they did all eat and were filled. 5,000 men besides women and children (Matt. xiv, 21). And that twelve baskets full of the fragments were gathered up when all was over. A little later he fed 4,000 men with seven loaves and a few little fishes, and they were filled and seven baskets of fragments gathered up (Matt. xv, 32-38; Mark viii, 1, 9). Yet soon after when crossing the sea with His disciples they had only one loaf with them, they thought from something He said that He was upbraiding them for forgetting to take bread seemingly forgetting the miraculous supply of the two great recent events (Mark viii, 13-21).

That which a little boy possessed was used on this occasion to abundantly satisfy more than 5,000 people. If we are as unreservedly in His hands as were the lad's loaves and fishes He will use us beyond our utmost thought.

An Appeal to Canadian Methodists

Toronto.—An appeal from the Methodist conferences of Saskatchewan and Alberta for 100 young men to enter the ministry and fill existing vacancies is published in the current issues of the Christian Guardian and is characterized editorially by the Guardian as one which will test the Methodism of this country as it has not been tested in many days. The appeal is signed by John A. Doyle, president of the Saskatchewan conference, and F. P. Perry, president of the Alberta conference.

THE TOWN COUNCIL

The Council meeting last Friday evening was quite interesting and even somewhat exciting. The CALL man arrived a little late to find the Mayor in the chair, and Aldermen Henderson, James and Griesbach present, but in a few minutes Ald. Service arrived and Secretary Johnston read the minutes of the previous meeting which were duly approved as read.

On behalf of several clients B. S. Corey wrote informing the Council, that unless the water was removed from certain lots on Gleichen street which had been forced on to their property by the grading of the street action for damages would be commenced. The general opinion seemed to be that some steps should be taken to remove the water, and upon this question the argument was exciting. It was stated that Alderman Griesbach as one of the street committee had charge of this. That gentleman said he had gone on with the work as advised by the Provincial government engineer, but had stopped the work as he considered there was not sufficient funds to properly complete it. However, he believed that when the funds were available the work could be completed and the water drained off. The other councillors believed that something should be done at once, and Aids. James and Service moved that the full council meet at First Avenue upon the call of the Mayor to view the situation. The wording of this motion was discussed, and Ald. Service suggested that "the meeting be held at Griesbach dam."

This very much annoyed the committee man and he made references to "Mine Service" that were not taken as complimentary and the next moment found himself on the floor shouting for the police, but escaped from the council chamber after a few hot shots. However, as both men have expressed their sorrow at breaking the tranquility of the other fathers the least said the better.

Several communications were read and disposed of and after being accepted by the Finance Committee the following accounts were ordered paid:

D. S. Moffat $75, A. E. Fearman $72.50, W. W. Whitfield $4.95, R. Rowe $7.15, J. J. Marshall $35, Arial & Sons $8.25, Mrs. Whitely $9, Mrs. Beauchemin $5, Miss Weddle $7, E. Wagstaff $1.

Waterworks account—W. McConnell $80.20, Gleichen Trading Co. $19.85, McLeod Bros. $7.20, Yule Bros. $24.80, Scott Bros. $2.25, J. H. Riley $18.25.

Ald. Service than gave quite a report of his visit as a delegate to the Innisfail convention of the Union of Alberta Municipalities, the principal portion of which is imbedded in another article in this issue.

Municipal Union Meeting

The opinion of single tax as expressed by about one third of the delegates present, was that it may be all right for the other fellow, but it is bad for us. The feeling of the representatives of the small towns and villages was that under single tax the assessment has decreased tremendously and tax rates running as high as 75 and 80 mills on the dollar have to be collected this year and even then in a few instances the revenue is proving insufficient to meet the demands of current expenses.

Two resolutions were passed dealing with the provincial governments recent act dealing with the single tax in Alberta towns. The first was: "That in the opinion of the convention it is advisable that towns and villages be given the privilege of augmenting their revenue by collecting business taxes and issuing licenses." The second, which was in reality an amendment to a resolution asking that the government make the adoption of the single tax system of taxation optional with each individual town, asked that "special legislation be enacted by the government to give relief for a number of years to certain town and villages that are suffering from the sudden imposition of the land revenue tax alone."

Delegate Galbraith, of Red Deer, was responsible for both resolutions. "This single tax came upon the towns suddenly he said. "We appreciate the effort of the government to give the towns a fair and equitable tax system, but just at present it seems as though the single tax was insufficient to meet the demands of the municipalities. Tax rates today in many of the smaller places are running all the way from 40 to 85 mills on the dollar and this sounds bad to say the least. Some of us are getting laid worrying over this town act. But it seems to be that the members of the legislature are not to be held blameless for their apparent lack of knowledge as to how this would hit the towns, the hard financial straits some of them are in and their heavy liabilities."

Mr. Galbraith thought that single tax was a step in the right direction. It was a step towards direct taxation, and he hoped to see direct taxation not only in municipalities but also in the provinces and the whole Dominion. "And then we will not be robbed through the nose as we are at present," he concluded.

Mrs. J. Kileup left on Friday to join her husband at Edmonton after spending several weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Lee.

During the week commencing October 1st, a "Mission" will be held in Gleichen under the auspices of St. Andrew's congregation. Rev. Mr. Newton, of Sarnia, Ont., will have charge of the services, he is at present conducting a "mission" at Banff.

Wm. Vanhorn, the machinist, left on Monday with Francis Donovan for Lone Butte with a Case Separator and steam engine. He expects to be absent about a month and in the meantime McLeod Bros. will look after his business in Gleichen.

James Dillon, Gleichen's Irish poet, sustained a dislocation of the elbow while working for a contractor on the S. A. L. Co. canal a week ago. It will be some time before "Jim" will be handling the "ribbons" again, but he is improving nicely.

The other day a man from the States arrived in Gleichen, and among other things said he was surprised to see some of the businesses represented in Gleichen. "Do you know" said he, "I could not understand from the paper that you have been printing, why some businesses were not represented in your advertising columns that I now see. The fact is, I bought a lot of things in Calgary that have not been mentioned by your advertiser for months I mean ever since I subscribed last year. I am a farmer now, but I was once in business, and for the life of me I cannot see how people expect to do business without at least mentioning their wares in the local paper. In a new country like this, I don't see how they expect to do business unless they advertise the goods they handle. I would not think of it even back in the old settled states, and every wide-awake farmer carefully reads the local paper, for months before he settles in a new country. I heard you Canadians were slow and I am sorry I shall have to write back to my friends, in some respects you are. But I am mighty glad I can say you are making good in the farming line and in some others. Your business men, however should wake up to the fact that farmers are readers and do business with those who properly represent their wares to us."

Three of A Kind

Any kind of a horse will be well shod if we do the shoeing—trotting horse, dry horse or racer, and we doubt if we charge any more than some ask for careless, even injurious work.

Murdock McLeod has some of the tallest sunflowers growing in his garden ever seen in these parts. Some of them are fully 10 feet high.

Mrs. J. A. Wilson suffered a very painful injury on Tuesday of this week. While attending to household duties she ran a needle into the palm of her hand, it broke and part remained in the wound. After a drive of five miles surgical attention was procured and the broken needle removed.

A. R. Yates, D.D.G.M. has instituted Quarry Lodge, A. F. & A. M. at Redcliff. Mr. Yates reports a splendid meeting and the new lodge starts with bright prospects. After the institution proceedings were concluded a splendid banquet was served. There were a number of Medicine Hat Masons present who had motored out to assist in the institution ceremonies and Mr. Yates went into the Hat with them and enjoyed the next day in sight-seeing and motoring around the gas city.
